

No Other Time Like This

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Monday, 30 June 2008 15:37 -

---

The tribulation is just ahead,
And before it is over millions will be dead.
Christ said, "There will no other time be like this."
It will be everything but a time of bliss.
The ruler that is to come will come as a man of peace.
If possible, anything good on earth he would cause to cease.
Very little peace will there be upon the earth, And many will hate the day of their birth.
He will be given power he has never known, Miracles he never did before will now be shown.
The world he will deceive,
And a mark he will cause them to receive.
There will be great famine and distress throughout the land.
And a fourth of the people will die. Death is on every hand.
There will be even more die later.
All because of this man, the God-hater.
There has never been anything like this before, Misery and death will reign from shore to shore.
Jesus said, "We could escape this time of wrath, But only if now we are on the right path."
Satan will rule the earth with an evil force, On those that are not with Christ, of course.
He deceives the world with his flattering speech, And tries to keep all he can from God's reach.
There will be no place for you to hide, In Jesus, now is the place for us to abide.
There will be wrath on those that are still here.
You can't escape. It will be far and near.
In Jerusalem where this man will be,
The place where Jesus died and one day we will see.
He died there on the cross for you and me.
Make Him your Lord, and with Him you will forever be.