

Echoes of Time

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Wednesday, 09 July 2008 17:06 -

Were poems planned for me way back in the echoes of time?
Maybe You also had lines written that would rhyme.
Would You show me if You did?
Or would it be something from me forever hid?
To all my questions an answer You could easily give, Because from everlasting to everlasting
You did live.
What were You thinking all the way back in time?
Were You thinking of my sublime?
I wish I knew what You were doing way back then, And know a little about when all this began.
When I get to heaven this I might never know, But I am sure a lot of things to us You will show.
Was Lucifer Your first creation back then?
His voice sounded all through heaven when his singing began.
Back then was the earth already hung in space, Or was it only a thought, not yet even a trace?
Since You have been around from so long ago, You have kept everything in order and under control.
Lord all these questions I leave up to You, But I still wonder about these things too.
Back then were there beings of any kind? At this time was I already on Your mind?
Was there anyone You loved then as much as You do man?
Was there anyone to love You as man can?
If I was with You would these things I even want to know, Or just wherever You went I would want to go?
But if I never know what took place way back then,
All that matters I will be with You until I don't know when.