

Grace

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Sunday, 29 June 2008 18:41 -

God's grace does abound.

In your tribulation, grace can be found; And always plenty to go around, But does not come by the pound.

Grace is for all to receive, When on God's Son, you believe.

When it seems all hope is gone, God will give you grace. You can go on!

Adam chose death instead of life.

Down all he brought sin, death and strife.

Adam, God would still forgive, And gave him grace so he could live.

No one sees the crisis you are going through.

No one knows about it but you.

You think, alone these things you must face.

God will be there with more than enough grace.

For grace, I have not fought.

And, with money, it cannot be bought.

Grace did not come by work that I wrought; But when, after Jesus, I sought.

In the time of troubles that I had to face, God so freely gave me His grace.

Now into His love and grace I have tapped; And by grace set free from sin, where I was trapped.

"My grace is sufficient", Jesus said; "To those who know I'm alive and not dead.

There is nothing so hard you will ever face, That you can't overcome by My grace."

When the mountains you are facing seem so high, You think they reach the sky.

But when there is a need for more,

To grace, God will always have an open door.