You can have joy in your darkest hour,
And when satan comes against you with all his power.
Happiness can go, but joy you have always, Even to the end of days.
Joy is there when you are sad. Joy is there when you are glad.
Joy doesn't leave because of circumstances, And joy is not there just because of chances.
Joy is there when things go wrong,
In your heart there is still joy, and a song.
Noone is able to take your joy from you.
Joy stays when the devil does all to you he can do.
Know in your heart there will be joy today, Share it with someone along the way. Just let joy reign in your heart today, Because joy is there to stay.
In life there will be sorrow as you go along, But joy will put in your heart a new song.
Don't worry about tomorrow,
Joy doesn't leave in time of your sorrow.
If joy you have not received,
I received it when on Him I believed.
For our sin's He died, but is now alive.
Come to Him, He will give you joy that will survive.
There is joy when you are up, Full and running over is your cup.
There is joy when you are down, Because joy always does abound.
