

When Lord

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Sunday, 29 June 2008 23:18 -

---

When Lord, are You going to listen to my cry?
Will it not be until I am caught away or until I die?
Lord, long ago into Your hands I placed my fate.
When I pray, why must I have to wait, and wait, and wait?
I have heard of others that say the same.
They also know and love You and call upon Your name.
Why must I have to wait so long?
If I continue in prayer, will You be there at dawn?
Won't You come now in answer to my prayer?
I know You personally and I know You care.
So Lord, those that call upon Your name,
Come with Your healing touch, You are always the same.
Lord, I come before You and say,
You hear me when I come to You and pray.
And I know You listen to me every day.
While I wait, You give me peace along the way.
Let me say, never give up or quit.
Who knows? Jesus might visit you in just a little bit.
What is there anyway to go back to?
Your breakthrough might be soon, and Jesus waiting for you.
So stay steadfast, His timing is always best.
I believe during your time of waiting He will give you rest.
He always has the right answer for you, And what He gives you is always the best, too.
There was a long period of time that I went through, And there seemed to be nothing about it I could do.
But still I continued to pray.
One day my breakthrough came and oh, what a special day!