Surely we are living in the last days, People not caring just going their own ways.
Not realizing one day before God they must stand, Those that rejected His outstretched hand.
We have a form of Godliness but deny His power, What excuse will we use in that hour?
We will give an account of all that we do, If good or bad, that means me and you?
Are we so wise yet not know the truth?
God wants to direct our way from our youth.
Are we so wise we no longer take God by faith?
We no longer need His saving grace?
Can our knowledge free us from sin?
Can our wisdom get us to Heaven, can it get us in?
Man thinks God loves me, He won't send me to hell, Do not rely on your good works that all is well.
Have we given thought to what God will say?
Will He say, depart from Me on judgment day?
We have God's word; yet we don't know what's true.
His word tells us the way? It tells us what to do.
Has our knowledge turned us from truth to fable?
Why can't we grasp the truth, why are we not able?
Why is God's word dim in our mind? Why so unclear?
Is it because we do not want to hear?
Our knowledge can be turned to good, When we believe God's word like we should.
It is for sure we will face God one day,
It can be a glorious day if we do it God's way.
