

Don't Worry

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Monday, 07 July 2008 17:15 -

---

In a battle with satan you are now engaged.
He is losing, he is outraged. He fought hard against you.
He didn't plan on God being there too.
There will be battles you have to fight.
But you will win; you will put satan to flight.
God has planned it, he will lose; Because righteousness you did choose.
Sometimes you feel you are fighting all alone, And you are weary to the bone.
Now, satan thinks you he can beat, But soon finds himself in full retreat.
When satan comes with his weapons of war, Grace and more grace God will give you more.
Against you he will do all the evil he can, But God will foil his plan.
There is no battle too big for God and you.
Satan will get so mixed up he won't know what to do.
The battle sometimes seems so long and hard, It leaves you worn and battle scarred.
Never let the battle get you down, God will help you to stand your ground.
He is always closer than you know, The battle will turn, your way it will go.
Don't worry when the battle is raging, I will give you victory, start engaging.
When it seems satan is winning do not fret, Together we have not lost a battle yet.