

A Purpose

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Sunday, 29 June 2008 18:28 -

Is there a purpose you were born?
To know Gods will, even when old and worn, You are someone special, God loves you.
There is no one like you; God has a job to do.
There is so much yet to do.
Whether little or much it is required of me and you, Did we take the time each day to read and pray?
So you can be a blessing to someone today.
There are many people that need someone to say, God loves you, could I pray with you today?
There are some that just a hug will do.
You say I have no talent, God can still use you.
There is always the poor among us,
And if God wants us to help them do we put up a fuss, If we don't want to do the small things
God might ask, How could He trust us with a larger task?
Is there something God has placed on your heart to do? Don't forget God has a purpose; He has a plan for you, You are the only one that can fulfill that plan,
You can do it, I know you can.
I believe there was a purpose for words that would rhyme, They say God loves them, and He cares all the time.
So I write down the words God gives to me,
Then I pray it would get to the one God meant for it to be.
Yes there is a purpose God has for you, God will always reveal His will too.
Fulfill the plan God has for you,
God will help you do the job, the job you are to do.